

Business Consulting for the Business Owner

Building a stronger business starts with a clear plan.

Shavell Tax & Consulting (STC) offers specialized Business Consulting services designed for your fast-paced, detail-driven business world. With deep experience in taxes for all types of closely-held business and with niches in the commercial construction and real estate industries, STC helps contractors, developers and business owners see the big picture - strengthening financial health, reducing taxes, and creating long-term stability.

Supporting Contractors with Smart, Strategic Insight

The commercial construction landscape is complex – tight margins, fluctuating costs, workforce challenges, and demanding project schedules. STC brings business savvy that goes beyond tax compliance, helping companies evaluate where they are today and where they want to be tomorrow. Through careful analysis and plain-English practical guidance, STC works with leadership teams to identify opportunities, implement change, and build stronger, more profitable businesses.

Consulting Focus Areas

- Outside CFO and “Quarterback” services assisting business owners with certain tax and business decisions as well as quarterbacking all outside CPA services such as audit and reviewed statement services
- Improving tax impacts to optimize and manage cash-flow management
- Review corporate documents to evaluate and ensure the business and tax impacts are what both the business and the owners want or require. This includes: Asset Purchase Agreement or Purchase & Sale Agreement; Employment/Incentive Agreements; Operating Agreements; Buy-Sell and/or Stockholder (or Member) Agreements.

Tools and Insights

- Tax planning and tax projections
- Assistance with Mergers & Acquisitions
- Business Valuations
- Cost Segregation Studies

Rich Shavell has been working with many leaders in the South Florida business community for upwards of 20 years. STC’s consulting skill sets are the result of helping so many businesses “make more money and keep more of it.”

Why Partner with Shavell Tax & Consulting?

Business owners and construction companies succeed when their financial strategy is as solid as their workmanship. STC combines industry knowledge, analytical expertise, and hands-on experience to help businesses operate with clarity and confidence. Whether you’re trying to sharpen profitability, plan your next stage of growth, or strengthen the foundation of your operations, STC’s Business Consulting services provide the insight and direction needed to move forward.

For more information: info@shavell.cpa or call 561.419.6175